the farm to table, source of our catering offer

Today, it is simply not conceivable for a group like Tero not to put respect for the environment and therefore for the product at the heart of its principles. As a group, our catering offer goes beyond the simple local supply, and this by integrating two farms applying the principles of organic farming. The head market gardener works with our chefs in the kitchen to plan the crops that will feed the group's restaurants and the caterer, offering a true "farm to table" experience.
